

Asteletsa

for bassoon

Jukka Tiensuu 1999

Performance note

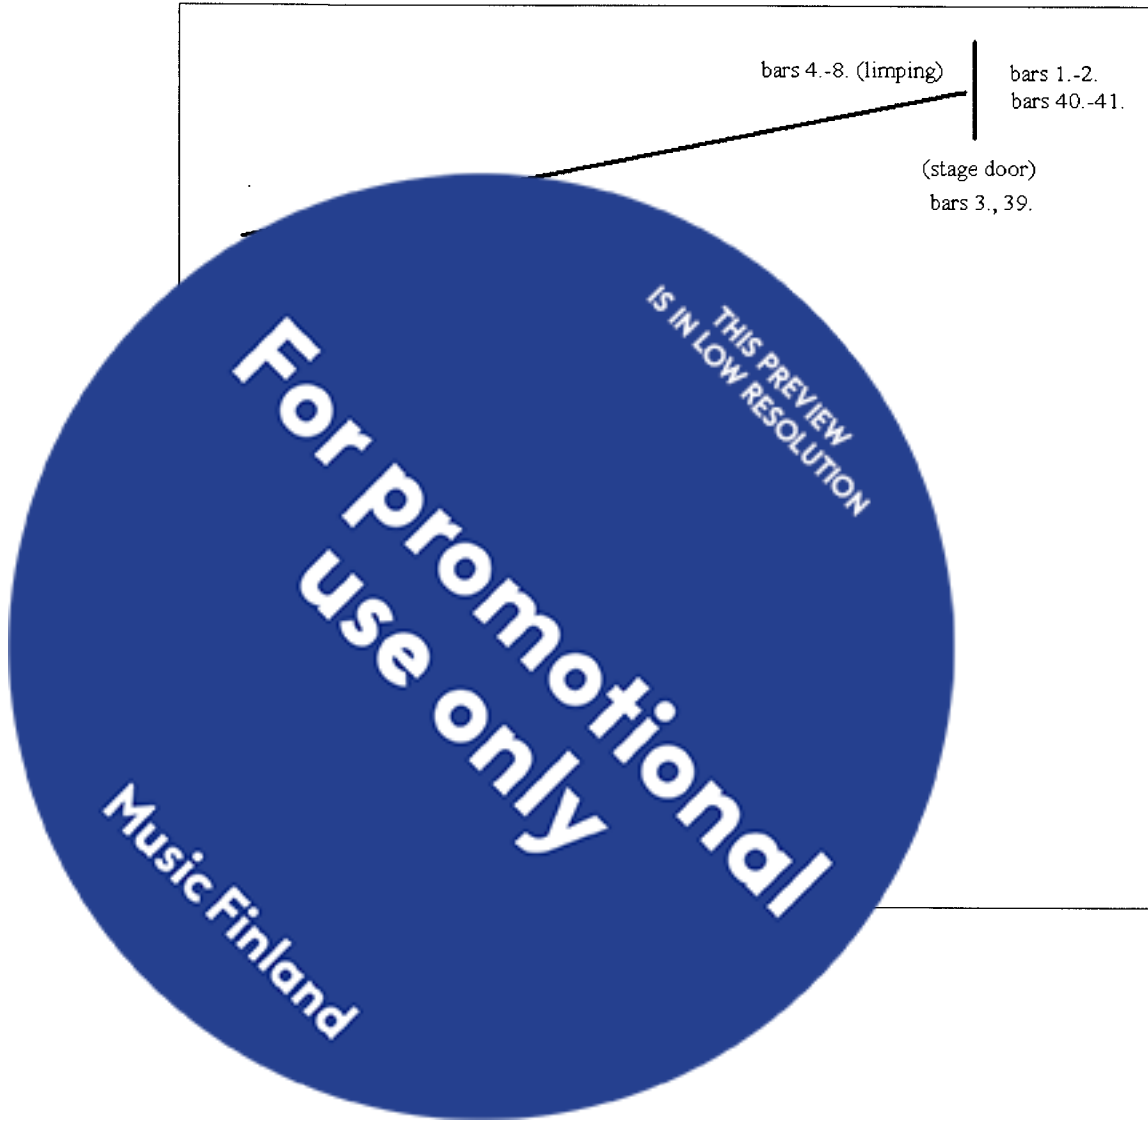

♯ ♭ a quarter-tone sharp and flat respectively.

The piece starts behind an open stage door, where the bassoonist plays the first two and the last two bars. The player is not seen before the bar 3 or after the bar 39, and is only partially seen (from back) in the bars 3 and 39.

- bars:
- |                  |   |
|------------------|---|
| 1., 41.          | A shrilling, loud multiphonic of free choice, but must be the same in both bars.  |
| 3., 39.          | Small glissandi on the a (fermata lunga).  |
| 7., 9., 33., 35. | A low, rich and loud multiphonic of free choice, but must be the same in all these bars.  |
| 4.-8.            | Limping backwards toward the opposite side of the stage the player is seen from the side by the audience.   |
| 11., 31.         | The shuffle should be clearly heard by the audience. The bars 10.-11. (and 31.-32.) are repeated as many times as necessary (back to the audience) until the player arrives to the desired place on the stage (center). |
| 12.-13.          | The turning speed should follow the rall. of the music. (Correspondingly accel. in bars 28.-30.)  |
| 14.-15.          | Rushing to the front stage, as close to the audience as possible (and safe).  |
| 19-20., 21-23.   | Very quick, jerky turn just before and after the low B<sup>b</sup> - as if first having forgotten to play that note.   |
| 27.-28.          | Move back (all the time facing the audience) to the center of stage.  |

All the movements should be consistent with the character of the music. E.g. the limping should be in the rhythm of the music in bars 4.-8. and 35.-38, the curtsey should accompany the glissando in bars 17 and 25, etc.
